

School and Library Visit

Thank you for your interest in an author visit with S.A. Schneider to your school or library. Stephen has several exciting programs and talks that are designed to spark children's imaginations through story.

You may contact him through the contact page at saschneider-author.com. Bookings can be coordinated through Mickey Mikkelson: mickey.creativeedge@gmail.com.

Stephen would not only love to talk with the kids or run a workshop, but is happy to be involved in school events like family night and fundraiser. Please contact for more information.

Book clubs and virtual visits are also possible and would need to be discussed to plan the perfect visit.

Stephen is happy to work with local bookstores to provide copies of his book. This would need worked out and coordinated ahead of time.

Talk Topics

Stephen can provide multiple topics to engage in with kids along with several workshops. Before the visit, the type of visit will need specified so he is prepared.

Author Discussion:

What's it like to be an author? What do authors do? How do you get your ideas? Do you have to know how to spell to be an author? These and other questions can be answered with an inspiring author visit.

Besides telling the story of how he began writing, Stephen discusses his wolf Hunter, which the kids love.

Story Structure:

Combination talk and workshop. Stephen leads the kids through creating stories by using their ideas and placing them in a typical story structure. They help shape the final stories, and a book is then written with the proceeds going back to the school library.

Video Game Storytelling:

Teaching the fundamentals of creating videos games for grades 4-6. Using the kid's interest in games, Stephen shows them how creating games is not just for programmers, and that creating stories for games is a new avenue available to them. This can be done in small groups or the school can purchase the educational system. Contact for more information or for older grades.

Virtual Visits

For homeschool and schools out of the area, a virtual visit can be arranged. There may be some limitations on content depending on talk, which can be discussed.
