

SA Schneider Bio

SA Schneider is an Ohio author and creative entrepreneur. He's known for crafting imaginative stories that inspire young readers to explore creativity, curiosity, and the unknown. The award winning Town Magician series and newest Oddish Questors series blend humor, magic, and cryptid folklore to engage children.

SA also leads interactive workshops for schools, libraries, and homeschool groups, where he teaches students how to turn their ideas into stories through engaging, hands-on storytelling techniques - including learning storytelling in video games and how to create their own. His programs focus on empowering kids to develop confidence in their creativity while building foundational writing skills.

SA regularly appears at local book fairs, schools, libraries, and cryptid events across the region. Through his books, workshops, and community involvement, he is dedicated to helping the next generation of readers and writers discover the joy of storytelling.

SA lives in Ohio with his wolf, Hunter. Together, they like to hang out at their cabin in the woods creating the next fantastic story.
